

Thursday

Today we were looking in the undergrowth for amphibians.

We found one of the rarest frogs on the whole island. Not much bigger than my thumbnail and unusually bright orange skin.

It's called a:

