| We have created a variety of guides to help our guests create space for wildlife. It's also a great way of reusing materials. Some of our guides have videos and written instructions, like our, 'How to make a bug hotel collection', some just have videos. Can your pupils help us to create a set of guides by creating written instructions for one of our videos? Why not take it further and use these ideas to encourage wildlife into the school grounds. Pupils can observe to see how the wildlife moves in. Can they plan the best place to set them up? | How to guides! | This is a perfect follow up from, "Water, a source of creativity" in round two. Learn how murals in a village are helping to spread a very important message about sustainability and protecting endangered species. Download the images and discuss with your class. Then challenge them to get design their own murals with striking colours and a message to be more sustainable.   | Make a Mural  | Art              | https://www.chesterzoo.org/schools/resources/make-a-mural-educators-guide/  |
| This is an extremely useful way of re-using old bottles. Pupils will be fascinated by seeing exactly how much water the plants take up. Why not take it further? This resource is particularly useful for a science experiment in Round Four because you can measure how much water the plant takes up.  | Make a bottle plant pot                                 | Art              | https://www.chesterzoo.org/schools/resources/make-a-bottle-plant-pot/  |
