Reasons FOR changing to more sustainable methods of farming

There may be more money in the long term due to better yield and access to markets

'Slash and burn' forest removal would not be used so plants and animals still have space, additional carbon would not be released, peatlands would not be damaged by fire.

No deforestation benefits biodiversity

No deforestation is needed since land already cleared for farming is used. No need to employ anyone to do this.

Better education for the community

It is safer for workers. There are better working conditions and practices.

Improved management can increase crop yield and better bunches of fresh oil palm fruit

Sustainable oil palm plantations can bring a wide variety of new jobs.
