

CAREER PROFILE:

Conservation Scientist

Job Title	Conservation Scientist
Work experience	University to study zoology and biology. Volunteering as a research assistant.
What skills you need to do your job	Science skills, research skills, communication skills to give advice to animal teams.
How do you apply 'preventing extinction' in your job?	Help zookeepers to make decisions about how to look after the animals at the zoo through scientific research
Top tip for getting a career in conservation	Never give up, it is hard and challenging but very rewarding!
Interests outside of work	Baking, cycling and playing Planet Zoo!
Interesting fact	Chester Zoo has the only zoo based endocrinology laboratory in Europe. Endocrinology is the study of hormones, we find the hormones in animal poo!

